Ground Loop Blues

Words & Music, Marian McKenzie

1. I went to see my baby, she was in that lab alone, I said, "Hey, tell me, Baby, why aren't you coming home?" She said, "It's ground loops."

2. "When I came in this morning, the weather it was fine, I checked my inter- screen, I felt rage at the ma - siretence and the sun refused to rise, till my thumbs developed blisters, You know it's ground loops!"

3. "Oh, you may think a sine wave Has got to be a fine wave But when I saw that ground loops is a job that's pret - ty tough. For - get the ground loops.

4. "I hunted for that ground, but a roach was all I found, I've added new re - sistors till my thumbs developed blisters, Damn these ground loops!"

5. I said, "Come on, now, Baby, I can see you've had enough, We all know fix - ing those things are everywhere!"

And if I can't get all these ground loops, I'll tell you, it is gonna drive me mad!"

I've got 'em really bad. I'm like those Greek gals with the sieve. I'm feeling like a dunce!

I've got a backup! Because I just - Then to - morrow you'll be ready To come back and shake your ground loop blues."

Copyright © 2012 Marian McKenzie
All Rights Reserved