When You’ve Got Momentum, Words by Marian McKenzie, 10-25-09
Tune: When the Red, Red Robin, by Harry Woods (1926)

When you’ve got momentum, you keep on rollin’ along.

Once you’re really movin’, Sir Isaac’s provin’ he can’t be wrong.

Once my inertia’s workin’, I know that my coffee’s perkin’,

There is no resistance lurkin’ to grab me in my closed system!

Sure as \( F = \frac{dp}{dt} \),

My momentum equals my mass times all my velocity!

Some folk’s notion is getting’ no net motion, and bed’s where they belong,

But when you’ve got momentum, you keep on rollin’ along.
