When You've Got Momentum

Words by Marian McKenzie

"When the Red Red Robin"

When you've got momentum, you keep on rollin' along.

Once you're really movin', Sir Isaac's provin' he can't be wrong.

Once my inertia's workin', I know that my coffee's perkin', There is no resistance lurkin' to grab me in my closed system! Sure as F equals dp over dt,

My momentum equals my mass times all my velocity! Some folk's notion is gettin' no net motion, and beds' where they belong, But when you've got momentum, you keep on rollin' along.
